How to login into eLearning?

To access the eLearning platform, open a new tab on your web browser -Google Chrome and Mozilla Firefox work best – and enter https://my.elearning.rutgers.edu in your address bar.

Click the Login icon on top right corner of the browser window to login into the eLearning platform.

Enter your Rutgers University NetID and password and click the Log In button to continue the login process.

If you are enrolled in multiple classes that are using the eLearning platform, you must select the class you want to login to.
